SUMMER INTERNATIONAL FESTIVAL OF ARTS “IN SEARCH OF THE PROMISED LAND”

From June 25th through July 30th the Vassily Polenov State Memorial Historical and Arts Museum and Natural Reserve together with the Vassily Polenov Association and in partnership with The Ralph Goldman Nikitskaya Jewish Community Center will hold the Summer International Festival of Arts “In Search of the Promised Land”.

The curator of the festival is pianist and music producer Basinia Shulman.

Vassily Polenov. Galilee

The Promised Land – as a subject and a source of inspiration for musicians, artists and writers – has become the prime mover of the new festival of the arts in POLENOVO.

The Russian painter Vassily Polenov traveled in many countries and visited the Middle East several times. Finally, he found his personal paradise on the banks of the Oka River. But the Orient impressed him significantly, and was the main source of inspiration for him during his life. What is the Promised Land? Where is it located? Is there only one, or does everyone have their own? Those are the philosophic questions that interest the organizers of the arts festival, just like they intrigued Vassily Polenov and other prominent personalities of the late 19th century.

“IN SEARCH OF THE PROMISED LAND” is a new cultural bridge between the two sides of the art of Vassily Polenov: his actual Eldorado – the country estate POLENOVO – and the Biblical Land of Promise, which inspired the artist to create his main series of paintings. Therefore, the festival of arts will bring together professionals from different countries: art historians, musicians, authors and performers in various genres. From June 25th to July 30th there will take place a marathon of artistic events for the whole family: exhibitions, concerts, film screenings, interesting lectures and master-classes, in POLENOVO itself and at partnering spaces.

“We called the festival “In search of the Promised Land” for a good reason: because Polenov headed to the Middle East to find historical truth and to confirm his own vision of the Biblical stories. The cultural goal of the festival is to show the artistic diversity in the countries of this region, which is why we have invited very popular performers, musicians, lecturers, photographers and artists to participate.” (Basinia Shulman, festival curator)

“In his quest for the Promised Land, Vassily Polenov toured the Middle East twice. But he discovered his paradise here, on the Oka River. This summer festival is a cultural bridge between the two worlds, which seem to be so far away from each other, and yet were brought together by the power of the talent of the Russian painter.” (Natalya Polenova, director of the museum and natural reserve POLENOVO)
